

Fort Nottingham Nature Reserve Hike

28th December 2025

Pat and Barry Jennings, Rhona and Phil Lang, Rose Hamilton and Libby Deysel had a short, but very pretty hike in this pristine Nature Reserve. The trail took us up through a lovely indigenous forest, with the sounds of the Cicadas - the loudest insects in the world?!

There was colourful fungi and lichen.

There was some wildlife, too quick and elusive to photograph, but some smaller wildlife - a crab and a rain spider.

After the trail, a rest at the picnic site.

Good views and bell shaped yellow flowers.

Hike report by: Libby Deysel