Farm stays

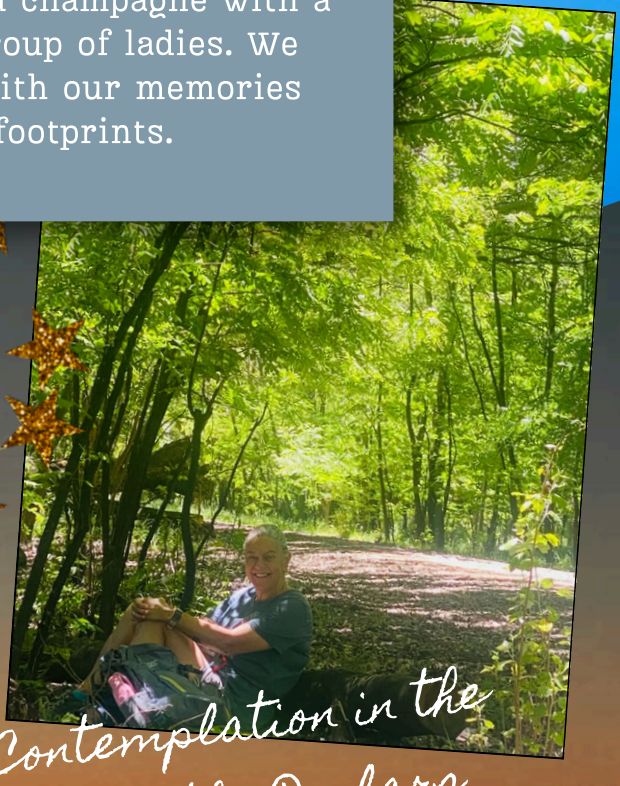

Free State sunrises

A wonderful warm welcome at each venue, starting with a huge Sunday lunch at the Pink Tricycle. the the comfortable taxi ride to our first night's stop at Valuta Guest Farm. Each days hike was great, being out in such beautiful countryside - such peace and tranquility. Each nights rest was special with some challenges - quizzes, banagram and upscrabble - lots of laughs and champagne with a fun-loving group of ladies. We came away with our memories and left our footprints.

Contemplation in the cool of the Poplars

What a wonderful few days hiking the Dirty Harry Camino! A lovely, happy group who shared stories, laughter and plenty of fun along the way. Walking along peaceful farm roads and rolling hills, surrounded by the beautiful song of birds and the sight of new life in little lambs and calves was truly food for the soul and so refreshing. A couple of days filled with nature, friendship and joy, made even more special by our wonderful, hospitable and friendly host. A truly memorable experience that left our hearts happy and spirits refreshed.

These are a few of my favourite things...from another Sungazer adventure. Beautiful sunrises, quick afternoon storms, calming sunsets after sharing fun days hiking with happy laughing friends. Cuddling new born lambs and friendly old dogs, ponies, cats, creatures and birds! Meeting the kindest and most generous hosts, enjoying their comfortable and interesting homesteads. We have a beautiful land to share and explore. With grateful thanks to Renee and the Sungazer team making it so easy and available to us.

Hiking along pathways through the valleys, over the hills with sandstone cliffs all around brought reflection and peace as we left our stresses and all that hinder us behind. Enjoying the friendships and hospitality that catered for every need thoroughly indulging our taste buds with treats. Thank you all for sharing the journey.

The miles we shared offered space for quiet reflection and unbounded joy. With each Eastern Free State vista, my sense of accomplishment grew, while the warmth of the hospitality we encountered each day felt like a gently welcoming hug. The evenings brought their own magic - laughter, endless banter, cake, champagne and wonderful comaraderie - balanced beautifully by moments of solitude and space to simply be. A perfect rhythmn of shared adventure, connection and personal reflection.

So deeply grateful for the breathtaking beauty and gently pace of this peaceful pilgrim trail... from the mountain trails and farmlands to the incredible warmth of our humble hosts. Walking alongside wonderful women and sharing stories made it truly special. What a blessing to live in this beautiful country!
